

To commemorate International Women's Day,
You're cordially invited to the DC premiere of the documentary

WE WOMEN WARRIORS (TEJIENDO SABIDURÍA)

By Nicole Karsin

In Colombia's war-torn indigenous villages, three brave women from distinct tribes use nonviolent resistance to defend their peoples' survival. Trapped in a protracted conflict that is fueled by the drug trade, native women are resourcefully leading and creating transformation imbued with hope.

Join us on

Friday March 8th at 12 PM

at the

Voice Of America -

Wilbur J. Cohen Building Auditorium

330 Independence Ave. SW, Washington DC, 20024

Discussion to Follow with Filmmaker Nicole Karsin &
Omar Martinez of the Latin America Working Group

Hosted by VOICE OF AMERICA

Refreshments courtesy of Teasm

Admission is free, but tickets are required

Please visit www.wewomenwarriors.com

& click on DC Independent Film Festival